

New water reservoir inaugurated

PUNE: 'Amrutkumbha' a water reservoir at Wadgaon Anand near Taluka Junnar, district Pune, was inaugurated at the hands of Ritu Chhabria, managing trustee of Mukul Madhav Foundation and Sourabh Rao, district collector of Pune on Sunday. Earlier, the three villages of this area were dependent on tankers for water supply. Having identified the problem faced by the villagers, the authorities with the help of Finolex Pipes, decided to lay pipes across a distance of 2.5 km from the canal to fill the water reservoir 'Amrutkumbha'. A function was organised at the venue wherein the entire village gathered to express their gratitude to Finolex Pipes and Mukul Madhav Foundation,. On the same occasion, Mukul Madhav foundation has provided financial assistance to a zila parishad school of the village.
